World Affairs Speaker Urges Mutual Respect

By Mike Dugan

"Crisis and Challenge in Latin America" was the topic of discussion Wednesday evening at the Institute of World Affairs. This meeting was the second in the current series of six.

Guest speaker was First Minister Eugenio De Angorena, who substituted for His Excellency Antonio Carrillo-Flores, Ambassador of Mexico to the United States.

The Ambassador is attending the Geneva Conferences in Switzerland and was unable to appear.

Mr. De Angorena rose to the Mexican Diplomatic Service after entering the Mexican Treasury Department in 1926. He was later to attain the appointment of First Minister to the Ambassador and is currently serving his fourth term at this post. Mr. De Angorena is married and has one son who is a junior at William and Mary College in Williamsburg, Virginia.

Mr. DeAngorena began by saying that he did not like to give speeches, but would rather communicate using interesting stories and anecdotes.

He spoke with pride and vigor of his country's growth and continued friendship with the United States. He told the story of Mexico's development since the days of the Conquistadores till the present.

Mr. De Angorena told of his grandfather who was the governor of a Mexican Province, who in 1810 signed the first proclamation abolishing slavery in the Western Hemisphere. But, he said, "Mexico is still faced with slavery—economic slavery. Because of this we have not been able to advance as rapidly as we otherwise could have."

The First Minister contributed his country's culture and economic growth to the Constitution enacted in 1917 as a result of the Mexican Revolution of 1910. He stated that the French and U.S.

Contest Nets $1,730 for UCS

Now that the work is over—Milda Marcus and Mel Cunningham receive trophies for Cutest Pan and Ugliest Man.

Omaha University students collected $1,730.88 for the "Cutest Pan and Ugliest Man" UCS contest. This is just 16 cents short of doubling the 1960 contribution of $865.52.

The sororities alone collected $1,086.

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity sponsored the contest.

Milda Markus of Sigma Kappa was named "Cutest Pan" with her sorority's collection of $355.76. Mel Cunningham of Lambda Chi Alpha, was the "Ugliest Man" with $370.16.

Other sorority candidates were

Official Notices

Directories will be available to University students Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the cloak room of the Student Center from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Students must present their activity cards.

Anyone graduating during 1962 must have his picture taken before March 1, 1962.

All campaign posters are due by noon Monday in the Dean of Students office.

The Speakeasies meeting will be held Monday at 11:30 and 12:30 in Alcoves "C" and "D" in the Student Center cafeteria. Two meetings are being held to accomodate students who are unable to make one because of class conflict.

Submissions for the "Grain of Sand," student literary magazine, are due October 25. Short stories and prose should be turned into Dr. Ralph Wardle, English Department head.

Seniors who received a letter from the Placement office about employment after graduation, should report to the Student Placement office, Room 238, Administration Building, and fill out an application.

Tel-lecture Links California, OU

A tel-lecture between the University of Omaha and California was held Tuesday at the President's Coffee in the Conference Center Auditorium.

Paul Kennedy of the College of Education at Omaha U and a friend of his in California spoke on their trip to Russia and showed their pictures of the country.

Dr. Schweitzer To Be Featured At Institute

Photography and make-up will be featured during the 14th annual House Magazine Institute scheduled for October 26.

The program, which will be held in Rooms 312 and 313 of the Student Center, will start at 8:30 a.m. with registration and a coffee hour. It will end at 7 p.m. after a banquet at Ross's Steak House.

Dr. Carl-Christopher Schweitzer, chief of the division for mass media of the West German Government's Information Agency, will be the featured speaker.

The program is sponsored jointly by associated Nebraska Industrial Editors and the Department of Journalism, University of Omaha.

Former P.E. Tutor Back as Dept. Head

At yesterday's meeting of the Omaha University Board of Regents, a former faculty member was named as Women's Physical Education Director.

Mara Jean Davis is returning in February from Fullerton, California to assume the position as an assistant professor. Miss Davis was previously an instructor in women's physical education from Sept., 1959 to June, 1961.

OU Homecoming Festivities Promise Fun-filled Weekend

Noon on Friday, October 27, will find the team, coaches and all school-spirited students in the pep bowl kicking off the weekend with a noisy pep rally. Classes after 12:30 will be dismissed.

At 1:30, from the Elmwood Park ravine south of the ball diamond, a parade of 150 cars will head downtown. The parade will return to the campus and break up.

The students will then ship up even more enthusiasm with a snake dance around the campus.

Cars will assemble for the parade at noon. To be entered in the parade, cars must be registered in the Student Center. All cars must be decorated.

At 6 Friday night, the torch will be set to the Council Fire in the pep bowl. Ouampi will dance and whoop it up and the Homecoming Princess will be named.

In final preparation for the big game on Saturday, will be the day's big event, the Homecoming Dance at Peony Park. Beginning at 9 Friday night, to the music of New York's Jimmy Palmer band, the merrymaking Indians will do many victory dances.

Tickets will be $1.50 for guests without activity cards.

The dance will last until 1 a.m.

Then, Saturday afternoon at 2, the whole student body will be on hand in the OU stadium to cheer the Indians to victory. Halftime will be extended 20 minutes for a special homecoming program.

Rehearsals for those participating in halftime ceremonies will be Friday at 3:30 and Saturday at 9 a.m.

Students Plan Migration Trip

The band, Indians and cheerleader buses will leave for Migration Day in Emporia, Kansas at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

There will not be an Interbus this year because of the small number of people who signed up last week.

All sororities will go on one bus and one fraternity has chartered a bus for members, and many individual cars will be making the trip.

The game against Emporia State will be Saturday night and band director Jack Malik has contacted Emporia about a possible solo dance.

Students are urged to buy their game tickets here for 75 cents in the athletic office; they will cost $1.25 if they are purchased in Emporia.

Faculty Gets $4,936

Full time faculty and staff members collected a total of $4,936.37 during the recent UCS drive on campus.

All-School Elections Set for Wednesday

Elections for Student Council, class officers, and Homecoming Queen will be held on Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the Student Organizations Room on the Student Center second floor.

The Student Council positions to be filled by the election are two freshmen boys, two freshman girls, and one junior girl.

President, vice-president and secretary of all four classes are the other posts to be filled.

Bob Cramer is in charge of the elections, and he will be assisted by Student Council members and the deans of Student Personnel in counting the votes. The posters of the winning student council and class officer candidates will be displayed on the first floor of the Student Center as soon as the counting is completed.

To be eligible for voting, each student must present his activity card for the 1961-62 year.

All Functions Need Petition

By Mary Lou Thibault

If you belong to an organization on Omaha University's campus, you have probably attended a social function of that organization. If so, then you have come in contact with the petition required to have that function. Any social event held by an OU club or group either on campus or off campus, must be petitioned by the office of Dean Curt Siemers.

If the event is being held off campus, the procedure is rather simple. Three copies are made of the petition: one goes to Miss Elizabeth Hill's file; one goes to Mrs. Thelma Engle, who is hostess of the Student Center, and gets a record of all activities; the third copy goes to the group giving the event.

If the function is to be held on campus, however, the procedure is slightly more involved. One copy of the petition goes to Miss Hill for her file; a second copy goes to Mrs. Engle. If food is being served, Food Service department must have a copy; another goes to the Building and Grounds department; still another copy must go to Bob Gruber, who prepares the rooms.

The petition itself must have the signatures of two sponsors who will be present at the function, and must be checked out from Dean Siemer's office not less than seven days before the event is to be held. It must be returned, properly signed, not less than five days before the event is to be held.

World Affairs

Constitutions were used as guides in framing the present Mexican democratic government.

He inferred that no other country in the world spent 20 per cent of their budget on education. As a result of this increased spending, Mexico no longer has the illiteracy rate of over 95 per cent which was the state of educational poverty in Mexico before the new constitution was enacted. "Now," he said, "there are thousands of new schools enabling even the poorest of Mexico's youth to get an education." He added, "Every two hours a new schoolroom is built in Mexico."

The First Minister praised the United States for its interest in Mexican economic development. He specifically referred to the Falcon Dam project as an example of U.S. cooperation towards Mexican agricultural development.

Mr. De Angorena closed by expressing his desire for mutual respect through better understanding of each other's cultures. "We have had a crisis, but now we face a challenge—a challenge of the future," he said.

Kappa Lambda Mu, women's honorary music club, will officially become a chapter of Delta Omicron, international professional music fraternity, at a Sunday reception in the Student Center.

OU Victory Bell? . . . Poor Initialing!

Mystery Solved—Victory Bell Back

By Roger Brown

The errant Victory Bell limped back to campus minus a wheel apparently by itself Friday morning, sporting a rather poor job of welded Pi Kap fraternity initials.

Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds Clarence Lefler said his men found the bell about 7:30 a. m. in the library parking lot.

In referring to the condition of the bell when found, Lefler said that he "feels that education is a process of growing up and not damaging anyone's property." He added that "we may have to put the bell under lock and key in order to protect it."

Dean of Student Personnel, Donald Pflasterer said that "he was more concerned about the missing wheel on the bell cart than he was about the poor initialing job."

Pflasterer added that the TEKES have been good custodians of the bell but that the bell should ring out for the school as a whole and not for any one organization.

KWOU Signal Proves Strong

By Paul Beavers

"The best laid plans of mice and men sometimes go astray."

Or so it seems, according to poet Bobby Burns.

Those operating Omaha University's campus radio station, KWOU, would probably be quick to agree with the noted poet's philosophy.

The low power station was slated to go "on the air" last Friday.

It did.

Only one thing was wrong, the engineers reported. The signal was just a "bit" too strong.

The strains of KWOU music and the chatter of student disc jockeys were supposed to have been limited to the immediate campus area.

However, a check by some of the dial spinning radio fans revealed the OU station was coming in "loud and clear" throughout much of the Omaha area, nearly to the point of blanketing the city.

A Federal Communications Commission listening post is located at Grand Island and the KWOU crew wasn't taking any chances.

After much nervous tuning of the transmitter and breathless scampering back and forth to the antenna high atop the Applied Arts Building, the engineers were able to cut down the signal strength, but not quite enough.

Back to the planning board.

KWOU was taken "off the air" and is being piped only into the Student Center.

Waokiya to Sell Chrysanthemums

Waokiya, the women's honorary sorority, will sell chrysanthemums for the Homecoming game October 18 on the first and second floors of the Student Center.

The mums may be picked up after the bonfire on Friday, or from noon to game time on Saturday.

The cost of the corsage is one dollar.

Student parking will soon expand into this area on the northwest corner of the Campus. The Board of Regents voted Thursday to authorize bids for a 250 by 180-foot crushed rock parking lot for some 150 additional cars. Also approved was an $8,000 widening project at the south entrance to the Campus, half to be paid by OU, and half by the city. "Wrong-way Corrigans" will help finance construction. Last week's warnings will become next week's tickets as one-way street regulations become enforceable.

OU Gridders Rap Tigers

Omaha University opened its Central Intercollegiate Conference schedule successfully by rolling over Fort Hays 26-0 on the loser's home field.

Fort Hays' only serious threat came early as they took the opening kickoff and marched to the OU eight before giving the ball up on downs.

Omaha's first touchdown came two plays later as Roger Sayers found daylight through the middle of the Tiger line and sprinted 80 yards for the score.

O.U. had to score twice to get their next six points. Sayers again found the goal line on a two-yard plunge.

The Indians third touchdown came with almost the same suddenness as their first. The 75-yard drive was covered in three plays.

Omaha's last touchdown came on a five yard run by Louie Miloni.

The scoreless fourth quarter was dominated by substitutions. Coach Al Caniglia used all his 34 players in the game.

Roger Sayers continued to lead OU backs as he gained 131 yards and nine carries to boost his season total to 363 yards of 22 carries.

Omaha will try for their second straight CIC victory Saturday at Emporia. Emporia opened their CIC schedule by surprising favored Washburn, 26-10.

All three winners in the CIC standings ran up 26 points in their opening victories. Omaha and Pittsburgh each shut out their opponents.

Varsity Gridders Lose to Ancients in New Contest

Nine ancient Bootstrappers stripped nine varsity football players of their glory when they trounced the heroes 15 to 8 in a Slo-Pitch game Tuesday.

The 12-hit pitching of Bootstrapper Frank Maleno shut out opposing pitcher Paul Blazevich.

The tide turned in the third inning when Maj. Al Ring got a triple.

The game was played by members of the Sports Officiating Class to see if it should be entered into the program.

Emporia Thumps Indian Runners

Omaha University's cross country team is improving steadily but not steadily enough to keep up with the competition, according to Coach Ernie Gorr. This could be seen last Saturday as Emporia State outran the Indian harriers 10-38.

Omaha's Nick Dixon, who placed eighth, ran the three mile course in 18:30 which was a minute and a half over his best previous time. The top runner of the day was John Camien of Emporia who ran the course in 16:02.

The next contest for the cross country men will be 3:30 p.m. today in Lincoln on the Nebraska Wesleyan course. The team will run against Wesleyan and Dana College. The Meet had previously been scheduled for Saturday.

Three big cross country meets will be held next month on OU's Elmwood park course. They are: the midwest AAU on Nov. 3, the CIC Championship Nov. 18 and the NAIA Championship on Nov. 25.

Gorr, the NAIA cross country director, said entries for the NAIA run have started to come in.

All those interested in having a basketball team in the men's intramural program should enter your team now in the intramural office, Room 240 of the Administration Building.

The deadline for entering a team is November 8.

Processing, plastics, and electronics are a few examples. Then pick the one you have a leaning toward, and get the names of the most progressive companies in that field.

One thing I'd like to point out from my own career is... a growth industry may also be an old business that's on the verge of new development. Shortly after leaving college I found this situation in the Outdoor Advertising field. What my associates and I did was to employ color, action and motion to dramatically personify the product, brand or services being advertised. In doing so, we developed the modern type 'spectaculars' that talked, blew smoke rings, soap bubbles, etc... signs that changed the face of Broadway and the famous Times Square area.

This is just one example. The really important thing to remember is this: When you set your sights on a career, aim for an industry that is going to grow, so you can grow with it. It's the difference between a rocket that blasts off, and one that just sits there. Good luck!

'62 CORVAIR MONZA NEW FACE, SAME SPORTING HEART

We might as well tell you straight off: Corvair's the car for the driving enthusiast. Think that lets you out? Maybe. Maybe not.

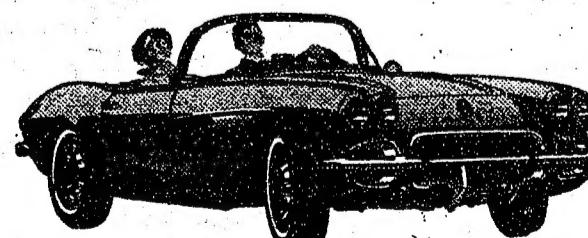

Until you've driven one, you really can't say for sure, because Corvair's kind of driving is like no other in the land. The amazing air-cooled rear engine sees to that. You swing around curves flat as you please, in complete control. You whip through the sticky spots other cars should keep out of in the first place. (Especially this year, now that you can get Positraction as an extra-cost option.) You stop smoothly, evenly with Corvair's beautifully balanced, bigger brakes.

And Corvair's found other new ways to please you this year. A forced-air heater and defroster are standard equipment on all coupes, sedans and both Monza and 700 Station Wagons. So are dual sunshades and front-door armrests and some other goodies. You'll note some new styling, inside and out. Nice. And safety-belt installation is easier, too, and cheaper. Another extra-cost option well worth considering is the heavy-duty front and rear suspension; it turns a Corvair into a real tiger.

So you can see we haven't really done much to Corvair this year. Why on earth should we? If this car, just as she is, can't make a driving enthusiast out of you, better take a cab.

A New World of Worth

And here's America's only thoroughbred sports car, the '62 CORVETTE. We warn you: If you drive a Corvette after your first sampling of a Corvair, you may well end up a two-car man. And who could blame you?

See the '62 Corvair and Corvette at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's.
